

Lanternclub

Wednesday 6th August 2025.

A winter outing for the faint hearted.

It was a cold day and extremely wet weather conditions leading up to the Carpaccino Event at The Lantern Club, but we managed to get a break in the weather and the sun finally poked its head up.

The Lantern Club sits on the site of the old Roselands Bowling Club, which is located next to Roselands Shopping Centre, just off King Georges Road.

Upon entering the establishment, I was met by a friendly staff member who welcomed me and pointed me in the direction of one of our members who had arrived ahead of me.

Scott Robertson, who was sitting in an older styled armchair alongside a lookalike fireplace, looked very comfortable in a homely- type setting.

It wasn't long before others started to arrive and we relocated to our allocated sitting location.

From where we were sitting you could see the sun shining outside above where the old bowling green used to be located.

Food and drinks were ordered at the bar and the conversations continued to flow.

The Lantern staff started to deliver the meals and the friendly noggin' and nattering continued unabated by all, including the staff!

I must comment on the Lantern Club, a great venue, not just because of the fact that it is very close to my home, but it has a warm welcoming feel about it.

The décor, the company (about 15 members), and the more than friendly staff certainly made it a great place to escape the Winter Blues!

A fun time was had by all!
